

Director of Public Health Services MHOA Advertisement:

Come join our dynamic team! The City of Newton is seeking qualified and experienced candidates for the position of Director of Public Health Services. The purpose of this position within the Department of Health and Human Services is to provide management of the Public Health Services division as well as planning, direct services, research, and administrative support to the Newton Health and Human Services Department in all areas related to public health. The Director provides content expertise on public health topics to City and community-based partners, leads communications, and promotes education to build public understanding of public health principles and best practices. The Director uses data and research to promote the use of evidence-based approaches, programs, and initiatives. The Director also conducts regular analysis of community needs and keeps up to date on current trends and best practices in the field, using this information to set divisional goals and track achievement. The Director plays a key role in partnership building both within the City as well as with a variety of stakeholders throughout the region and the State, participating in various working groups and coalitions as well as convening them. The position serves to bridge public health related activities with human services related activities, promoting a holistic approach to community health in Newton. A visible leader in the community, the position requires strong professionalism, an exemplary work ethic, a solution-oriented attitude, and a willingness to be flexible and collaborative as the needs of the City change over time. This is full-time, hiring salary range: $90,641-$99,049 annually plus yearly step increases, excellent benefits, and the opportunity to be a part of our team of dedicated public servants.
